BSA Certified Angling Instructor Course (CAI)

Scouts become scouts because they crave outdoor adventure; Fishing helps you “Deliver the Promise of Scouting.” The Certified Angling Instructor (CAI) course gives you hands-on experience with various fishing tackle, tying fishing knots, casting, rigging, fly-tying... finding fish, hooking them, fighting them, landing, and releasing them... fishing etiquette, ethics and more... and how to teach these skills.

A BSA Certified Angling Instructor is:

- A qualified BSA instructor for fishing and fly-fishing programs and merit badges.
- A leader who develops and supports unit level, district, and council fishing programs.
- A fishing program advocate and resource for Cub Scouts, Scouts BSA, and Venturers.
- A volunteer who supports fishing programs at National Jamborees, National Order of the Arrow Conferences, and BSA high-adventure training events.
- A “Trainer of Trainers”.

The course content is tailored to your needs; we start with what you know and advance to a nationally recognized set of skills needed to teach fishing to our youth. Course topics will stay close to the established BSA national agenda; this course requires a minimum of 18 hours of instruction designed to increase your knowledge and provide you with new experiences.

What does a Certified Angling Instructor do:

- Teach fishing knowledge and skills to youth and adults.
- Promote fishing at the Unit, District, Council, and National levels.
- Plan and conduct fishing programs for Scouts, their parents, and leaders.
- Use fishing to support your council’s Recruitment, Retention, and Reactivation programs.
- Work to improve fishing facilities, equipment, and materials at your council’s camps.
- Help district and council camps provide fishing programs that work.
- Commit to making fishing a priority within your council.
- Join (or help form) a Council Fishing Committee.
- “Deliver the Promise of Scouting.”
